Advanced swimming pool poll held

By Janice Harrington

An advanced poll on the fate of a proposed indoor swimming pool facility was held this weekend.

Didsbury Town Administrator Mike Storey said only 6 people cast votes in Saturday's poll which was made available for those unable to make the official poll scheduled for tonight.

The votes, which currently remain in a sealed box, will be kept and counted with all of the ballots cast on the issue of whether the town should borrow over $1 million to build the pool. Official results of the vote will be released May 30.

Didsbury residents who attended a meeting last Wednesday on final figures for the pool were also told that a yes vote on the plebiscite will bring a new motel to town. Town Councillor Al Engel said a letter of intent has been signed with developer Gladys Ringheim for a proposed motel to go alongside the pool complex.

"A private motel would be built if the pool is a go," Engel said. It's proposed to be a 48 unit motel with a family dining room and it would be connected to the pool with a walkway. But it is conditional on the construction of the pool. If it goes ahead then we would end up with a recreational facility with a pool, an ice surface, curling rink and a motel attached. It would be something this town could market really well."

Those who attended the meeting were also given final estimated figures on construction and operation of the facility. Cost to build the base facility with swimming tank, locker rooms and offices is pegged at $1.5 million. Operating expenses, tallied using a comparison of other community pools, is estimated at around $1.75 million a year. Town administrator Mike Storey said expected revenues would leave the pool with an $80,000 to $90,000 operating deficit.

"That's not too bad especially when you consider the operating deficit for the old pool was $40,000 for a five month operation," Storey said.

Debt payments of $124,000 per year and operating costs are estimated to boost the present mill rate by about 4 mills. Town tax payers were paying about 1 mill for the yearly operation of the old indoor pool.

But Engel and Storey said that while the mill rate will increase to bring this kind of facility to Didsbury, a decrease in old debentures in the near future will help to lighten the load.

"Currently about 6 mills goes towards debt payment," said Storey. "By 1996 that will be reduced to under 1 mill. A lot of money was borrowed over 20 years in the late 60's and early 70's and those will retire soon."

Storey said some of the debts will be retired by 1994, some in 1995, and the majority will be gone by 1996. Current yearly debenture payment of $305,000 per year will be reduced to $43,000 at that time.

Voting on whether the town should borrow the $1.078 million for the swimming pool facility takes place today from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Didsbury Memorial Complex.

Practise run

The Didsbury Fire Department got a little practise in last week by burning down some farm buildings in the south west end of town on the site of a new adult living development. The fire fighters burn down buildings at the request of landowners for practise in fire fighting.

Increase hikes FCSS funds

By Janice Harrington

A recently announced increase in grants for FCSS agreements means local groups may profit from a windfall.

John Oldring, provincial Minister of Family and Social Services, announced a 2.5 percent increase in funding for the Family and Community Support Services programs earlier this month. Money from FCSS is used to fund community based preventative social services programs.

Leslie-Anne Murray, acting

Didsbury FCSS Director, said the increase is a pleasant surprise.

"It's not a whole lot but at least it's an increase and not a reduction."

The 2.5 percent increase means funding for FCSS will increase to $14.15 per capita. Last year's per capita rate was $13.80.

In total, Didsbury FCSS will gain about $3,500 on a $108,000 budget. But Murray said not all of that amount comes from the government's increase.

"The reason that we will get an extra $3,500 also comes from an increase in our population," Murray said. "The latest census figures showed an increase of about 103 people, so we get more overall because of that as well."

Murray said the FCSS has not made any decisions at this point on how the extra cash will be used, but she expects it may be added to the general pot for any new programs which may be introduced later this year.

"When we do the budget, we look at the groups that apply in the fall and then fund according to what they want," Murray said. "We don't spend all the money. Some communities take all the money and divide it among the groups right at the beginning, but we find that ideas aren't always born in the fall and it is better to have some funding still available and so that other groups, who find they may be in trouble later in the year, have the option of coming back."

Currently, the Didsbury FCSS funds about 12 programs. Some of these include Mountain View HomeHelp, Lifeline, Help for Victims of Family Violence and before and after school care. Approximately 270 communities in Alberta are under the provincial FCSS program.

Government sources say funding for FCSS has increased by 300 percent over the last 10 years.

Kate was with us for part of the long weekend in May. Kate is our niece/godchild, environmentalist, protector of the ozone layer, animal lover, sports enthusiast, budding writer, actress, and the enemy of litterers and smokers. She is also the holder of a valid learners licence which means that she will drive anything that moves. Fortunately we don't own things like backhoes and draglines.

Kate has been a frequent visitor here since her birth nearly 15 years ago. Entertaining her has never been a problem because she is a good "farm kid," knows where things are and what is safe and allowed. When she was little she and her brother Lee explored the woods and creek, went on picnics, played with the cats and dogs, rode their bikes and had access to all the toys their older cousins had left in the playroom. In this family even part-time farm kids have to work, it's part of my survival technique, so as Kate got older she learned to pick peas, weed flower beds, get eggs, feed chickens, bake cookies and clean up.

Kate's and my shared activities have changed over the years and it seems we have gone from tea parties and bedtime stories to driving lessons and social awareness in an awfully short time. An independent young woman of almost 15 still wants to find the new baby kittens and cuddle them but she wants something that reflects her adult status too. What do you do with a bright, healthy young person once she has cut all the lawns, (on the riding mower of course), found the kittens, checked the owl's nest for golden eyed fuzzy babies, and hauled away enough garden debris that you can see she is reading the end of her patience. What I really wanted now was for her to help me pick up garbage from our road but I didn't expect her to greet this plan with much enthusiasm. Maybe if I could phrase the request in a way that appealed to her social conscience.

"Honey," I said, "how would you like to help me address an urgent environmental concern?" "Sure," she said, "what is it?" I had underestimated her. Something we adults do too often I'm afraid. "There are some pieces of cardboard, some baler twine and a couple of plastic jugs in the ditch along our south fence," I told her, "If you help me we can clean it up in just a few minutes and it's something that's bothered me for weeks."

I drove the truck and Kate jogged along the road, in and out of the ditch and occasionally into an adjoining field. We did the whole mile, both sides and we half filled the box on the little pick-up. Besides the cardboard boxes and baler twine that I had seen from my passing car there were ice cream pails, 5 gallon pails, fast food cartons, bleach and oil jugs, yogurt and juice containers, beer and pop bottles and cans, plastic and paper bags, broken glass, large pieces of lumber, newspaper, a teaspoon, and many, many cigarette packages. There were not, I am happy to report, any dead critters, disposable diapers or syringes. A lot of people drove by while we were out there. They smiled and waved, probably thinking we were picking up beer bottles for money. It took us about an hour and that includes sorting, bagging and burning. We felt virtuous and honorable and vastly superior to the slob who we were cleaning up after.

"You know," Kate said thoughtfully, "only a few people throw their junk out the window so if only a few people picked up, the whole countryside would soon look great."

"I guess there will always be people who throw out and people who pick up," I said, "and I know which kind I'd rather my family would be."

Meanwhile if anybody throws anything on that road this summer be warned that Kate and I are working on an ancient Celtic curse that can give you shooting pains in your back and interesting digestive problems.

5-0 notes

A goodly number of local seniors have been involved in the area play-offs for various events for the senior summer games. Our congratulations to those going on to zones.

A Parents' Day potluck dinner will be held June 3rd at 1 p.m. to celebrate both Mother's Day and Father's Day.

Cards are still being played every Wednesday afternoon.

Hire-a-Student office cut

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury students looking for a summer job will have to go to Olds this summer for the help of Hire-a-Student.

Didsbury Town Administrator Mike Storey said town council decided against funding the Hire-a-Student office in Didsbury this year because of cost.

"It was felt by council that the program was not as economical as it was first thought," Storey said. "The rewards out of it were not all that great."

Storey said that while a government grant for $5,000 was received, running the office still cost the town about $900 per summer. Jobs students were placed in through the office did not really make this expense worthwhile.

"They were mostly just odd jobs, not really long term. The highest year we had in wages was about $11,000 and that was only because a seismic company came to town and hired 4 people for 7 weeks. Other summers, the wages earned don't come anywhere near that close."

But while an office in Didsbury will not be open for students looking to pay for another year's education, they will not be left on their own. The Olds Hire-a-Student office, which celebrated its grand opening last Friday, is more than willing to list Didsbury business looking for employees and to help Didsbury students find work.

Olds Hire-a-Student chairperson Peggy Good said they are more than willing to work with students and businesses from anywhere in the area.

"We are even hoping to plan a trip to Didsbury for our coordinator this year," she said. "We encourage anyone who doesn't have an office in their town to call. The program has been so successful in Olds, I can't say enough about it."

Good said the Hire-a-Student office is located above Meyer's Mens Wear in Olds. The office space was donated, as it is every year by local businesses. Around $5,000 in government grant money is used to help pay the wages for the coordinator and advertising costs. Other administrative expenses are generally provided by the local business community.

The Olds Hire-a-Student office is open Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Feeding the future

Olds Hire-a-Student organizers opened their office last Friday by watering a tree to symbolize growth for the future. Officiating the opening is coordinator Randy Funkhauser, chairperson Peggy Good, Olds town councillor Jim Spicer and Meyer's Mens Wear owner Jack Meyer.

Town council notes

By Janice Harrington

The Didsbury and District Recreation Board will be looking at costs to install basketball hoops in the Kinsmen Park.

Town Councillor Al Engel said the idea to put hoops in the park, located at 17th Avenue and 23rd Street, is in the Recreation Board's master plan, but funds will need to be found to cover the cost.

Besides hoops, concrete pads about 15 feet square would also need to be installed.

The Town of Didsbury will be splitting funds with Western Canadian Championship Wrestling for a wrestling match held last Friday.

Town councillors had originally suggested that the Build Our Pool Society enter into the partnership for the evening of entertainment, but Councillor Al Engel said BOP had arranged only to run the concession during the evening.

Profits from the event will be split with the town 70% to 30%. The town's share will go into the Recreation Board's general revenue account.

Didsbury will have its very own Mayday tree, only it will be in the Town of Lacombe.

Council agreed to purchase a tree to be planted in a new Lacombe park after being solicited for the project by the town's Canada Day Committee. The tree will be planted along with a number of others in a special park named after Roland B. Michener, the late Governor General of Canada.

The donation of the tree, which will be noted by an engraved plaque, is intended to be a living tribute to Michener as well as to honor Canada's 125th birthday.

But not all Didsbury councillors felt the tree planting ideas was a good one. Councillor Neville Marshall voted against the proposal to purchase the $45 tree.

"I don't think buying a tree in Lacombe is going to do Didsbury any good," he said.

But acting Mayor Doug Sharpe disagreed.

"I think it's neighborly. And maybe if we do this we can get them to sponsor a [electrical] plug in the campground."

Lacombe plans to plant 125 trees in the park on July 1.

The town is making apologies to the Didsbury Volunteer Fire Department after forgetting to invite them to participate in the salute to volunteers during volunteer week.

Councillor Neville Marshall said the fire department felt slightly by the oversight which totally ignored their contribution to Didsbury.

Acting Mayor Doug Sharpe asked Marshall to take their apologies to the fire department for the mistake, but said it is sometimes easy to forget that the fire fighters in this town aren't paid for their work.

"They are so close to professionals, with all their training and the way they act," Sharpe said. "They are volunteers but they act like professionals."

But council did say the department should have been officially recognized during the week and hoped they would accept their apologies.

Town council will be asking the town engineering firm to take a close look at the contract the town has with Metro Paving.

Councillor Neville Marshall made the suggestion about the road paving crew that has been working in Didsbury for the past year at last week's town council meeting.

"I am getting sick and tired of listening to people complaining and I think there should be some pretty stern direction given to that paving crew," Marshall said.

Council said many complaints have been made over the crew's inability to finish one job before moving on to others within the town.

"It seems they start, haul all their equipment in and then take off again leaving a big hole," said Councillor Marjorie Malinowski.

Town administrator Mike Storey said the problem may be in a contract loophole.

"There was a time frame for the work in the contract but it was extended with more projects," he said. "That leaves some room for them to work around in."

Core samples of some of the crew's finished work have also been sent to labs for testing to determine whether or not there are any deficiencies in the workmanship.

Camp fees for the 1992 camping season at the Rosebud Valley campground are going up.

Town council voted to raise the overnight prices at the campground at their last meeting.

Prices for an inside loop spot without power will now be $8 a night. Spots in the outside loop, with power, will cost $10.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Great plan guys!

By Janice Harrington

Kudos to the Didsbury Lion's club for coming up with an excellent proposal to start a recycling project in the Town of Didsbury.

Russ Croft, one of the newer members of the club, was the organizer of the feasibility study and has put together a logical and, I believe, ultimately successful plan for recycling paper, plastic and glass.

The Lion's had originally been approached by town council to take over management of the newspaper recycling bin which had been sitting unused for quite awhile. But, in true form, the Lion's have been farsighted and created a plan that goes far beyond collecting newspapers.

Under this proposal, the Lion's would manage the facility, funded by the town, which will collect, sort and sell normal landfill fodder such as paper—ranging from newsprint to colored bond, plastic jugs (like the kind they sell milk in), and glass. Croft is even researching creative uses for ground glass so as to create a market for the recycled product where one may not exist.

The only stumbling block to the implementation of this project may be money. I'm not talking about starting up costs, but rather the ongoing revenue. The Lion's are proposing to use the revenue to pay other community groups for their labor on the recycling project, but they are concerned that town council may wish for a bigger chunk. Let's hope this doesn't get in the way of starting this worthwhile project when they present it to town council at their regular meeting on June 2.

Speaking of environmental action—a meeting for Didsbury residents (and not just those who live within the town, but anyone who pays Didsbury taxes) will be held this Wednesday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m. We will be discussing ideas about what we would like to see happen for the environment in Didsbury, both in the long and short term. If you are interested call me at 335-3301.

Didsbury Library news

Are you spending money? Are you looking for good value and long lasting products made by a reputable firm? Take the guess work out of buying? Look first at the Didsbury Town Library!

The library features a service for anyone in the buying market—Consumers Corner. You will find information on everything from new and used cars, to toys, to small and large appliances. Current Consumer Reports and Buying Guides will give brand-and-model ratings, major test reports and general buying advice.

Stop by if you are looking for information on product recalls or repair histories (see at a glance what appliances require the most or least repairs). If yard work is on your list the 1992 Buying Guide Issue features an entire section on related purchases.

All of the library's consumer magazines and guides are available for 2 week loans. Membership is free at the library (your best value yet!) and is as easy to get as signing your name and knowing your address.

Spending cut a hoax

Dear Editor:

Recently every household in Canada received an eight page, 3 color paper from our Federal Government which tried to promote the message that the PC Government is listening to Canadians and cutting government spending.

As I see it, a decrease in the rate of increase in government spending (to 2.6% for 1992/93) is not a spending cut. Neither is the 34% increase in the Privy Council budget a cut, although it may be less than the Government would like to spend on campaigns to promote themselves and their dubious achievements.

The government claims the "deficit is down." From What? In spite of $18 billion in GST revenues, annual deficits still exceed $30 billion and our debt continues to grow!

Canadians are not stupid. They know that there are more people out of work, that our after-tax purchasing power is seriously declining and that their retirement and savings funds are being spent for everyday living expenses and taxes.

Do not be deceived: our current government does not believe in reforming our federal system. They are still promoting it. Only the Reform Party seeks the fundamental changes Canadians are asking for. Your readers should write Ministers' Valcouth and Wilson and tell them if they appreciate tax money being spent on advertising instead of ACTION.

Yours truly,
Alan Wilson,
Carstairs

Wheelchair accessibility tested

Dear Editor:

An unusual event has taken place in Didsbury recently, and I'd like to tell the readers about it.

Who: Me, Yvonne Dick.

What: I wheeled around Didsbury for three hours one night after school.

Where: Eleven local businesses, which were: The Library, The Coffee Shop, the Town Office, Books and Things, Royal LePage, Home Hardware, Ward Drugs, Esso, Videobreak, the Royal Bank, and I.G.A.

When: From 3:30 'till 6:30 p.m.

Why: (Now, what everyone's been waiting for... ) because after I read Don Fife's letter in the paper about lack of ramps and wheelchair accessibility in Didsbury, it started me thinking. I thought for a long time (two-and-a-half weeks) and I decided to write a book about a girl in a wheelchair, told from her point of view, to show the people who aren't in wheelchairs that the people who are in wheelchairs are as normal as anyone else, and can lead basically normal lives. I wanted people to get over their fear of people in wheelchairs and see them as real people.

I wheeled around town to find out how accessible a small town is to residents in wheelchairs, and tourists who will come in summer in wheelchairs, and found out some interesting things.

First, the good news. People were for the most part willing to help lift me in and out of buildings, and I never had to wait long at a business before getting in. The bad news is, part of the reason people were so eager to help might have been because I was a kid. They might see adults as 'things to fear.' The businesses were, for the most part, not on street level. This meant that someone had to lift my wheelchair into almost every store. (I think if I was a tourist driving through this small town, or someone coming to live in the new housings that are going up, that might turn me off living here.) Most of the sidewalks are sharply curved, again, I needed help getting up the sidewalk to the Town Office. (If I was in a wheelchair, that might be another reason to pass this town by—not being able to get into the Town Office on my own, and thus not being able to voice my opinion as freely as someone who could just walk in.)

My favorite places were Books and Things and Thee Coffee Shoppe, because they really catered to their customer, even though I was in a wheelchair, and they had to re-arrange half their shop so I could get through! I.G.A. is totally wheelchair accessible, which was nice, but I don't care that much about groceries, so I didn't spend a lot of time there.

Special thanks to everyone who helped me out, and I'd like to tell them not to be afraid to help out adults in wheelchairs, I don't think they bite.

1992 Alberta Capital Bonds now on sale

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

To most of us, spring signals warmer weather and spring cleaning. As an Albertan, spring should also signal financial investment opportunities. The Provincial Government is again offering you the opportunity to invest in the future of your province by purchasing Alberta Capital Bonds. Alberta's Provincial Treasurer, Dick Johnston, announced that 1992 Alberta capital bonds went on sale from May 11 to June 1, 1992 at an interest rate of 7¼% for the six month period, June 1 to November 30, 1992. These bonds feature a minimum guaranteed rate of 6¼% for a term of five years. The interest rate on the 1990 and 1991 Alberta Capital Bonds for this upcoming period will be 11% and 8.5% respectively which are the minimum guaranteed rates on those bond issues until maturity.

Since Alberta bonds were first issued in 1987, Albertans have invested over $3 billion in Capital Bonds and bondholders have received approximately $529 million in interest payments, including interest to be paid on June 1, 1992. Over $1.5 billion in Alberta bonds is currently outstanding. Both the principal and interest of the Capital Bonds are guaranteed by the Province of Alberta. This guarantee in conjunction with a competitive interest rate makes Alberta Capital Bonds a secure and wise investment.

Only Alberta residents may purchase Alberta Capital Bonds which are fully registered and can be redeemed at full face value every six months. The province reviews and sets the interest rate biannually ensuring that Alberta investors earn a consistently competitive rate of return on their Alberta Capital Bonds. Although market interest rates faced a general decline in recent months, the province has maintained a guaranteed minimum rate of interest providing Alberta investors with an above average yield on their bond investment.

With the release of this 1992 bond issue, the purchase limit on new bond purchases increases from $50,000 to a maximum of $75,000. Investors can now re-invest their 1989 bond issue amounts and purchase additional Capital Bonds to a maximum of $75,000. June 1, 1992 is the maturity date for the 1989 issue of Alberta Capital Bonds but if you are a 1989 bond holder, you have until June 6, 1992 to reinvest your matured bonds in the 1992 issue.

The Alberta Bond program has had tremendous success to the benefit of all Albertans. By investing in Alberta Bonds you are contributing to the funding of long term capital projects including the construction of health care, university, college and special waste management facilities, the regeneration of senior citizen lodging, and the planning and implementation of museums and water development projects.

The issuance of 1992 Alberta Capital Bonds not only provides bondholders with the opportunity to make a financial investment earning a competitive rate of return, but it also provides Albertans with the opportunity to invest in their future and in the future of this province. Our provincial government is committed to this program and to the opportunities that it provides. For an application form or for further information visit your nearest bank, trust company, credit union, investment dealer or Alberta Treasury Branch.

If you need to contact me, or just want to voice your concerns, please phone my constituency office at 556-3132 or my office in Edmonton at 422-0141 (collect).

ENVIRONMENT WEEK MINISTER'S MESSAGE

Albertans throughout the province will be celebrating Environment Week from May 31 to June 7.

This is a special time set aside each year to increase our appreciation of the precious natural heritage we so often take for granted - the air we breathe, our lakes and rivers, and the magnificent landscapes that make up the face of Alberta.

To ensure that this heritage is preserved for the enjoyment of future generations, we should take advantage of the opportunity afforded by

Environment Week to rededicate ourselves to protecting the environment and keeping it healthy. This is a personal challenge for every Albertan, for we all have a role to play, whether large or small. Remember, each one of us can make a difference. That's the important message in this year's Environment Week theme - "Our Environment - It's In Our Hands."

The Honourable Ralph Klein
Minister of Environment

MP's column

Louise Feltham, M.P.
Wild Rose Constituency

There are almost 6.6 million children in Canada, most of whom are healthy, happy and secure. However, there are over one million Canadian children at risk.

We can build a brighter future for Canada by cherishing all our children.

The Federal Government Program, called "Brighter Futures," has four parts:

- 1.) The Dec. 11, 1991 ratification of the United Nations Convention on the Rights Of The Child;
- 2.) The Proposed Child Benefit, announced in the 1992 Budget;

- 3.) Canada's Action Plan For Children; and
- 4.) The Child Development Initiative.

Parts 3 and 4 were announced by the Minister of National Health and Welfare on May 4, 1992. Part 3, Canada's Action Plan For Children, is based on the 10 Point Program outlined at the United Nations' World Summit For Children. Eight of the 10 issues identified by the leaders of 71 nations are problems affecting all children; they are of particular concern to Canadian children. Although most of Canada's children generally enjoy a good standard of living, Canadians cannot be complacent, we must look to the future and strive for improvement. All sectors of Canadian society—parents, communities, governments, businesses, non-government organizations, and children themselves—have a role to play in sharing this responsibility.

The Child Development Initiative is aimed at reducing the conditions of risk for children. The one million children in our country at risk include children raised in poverty, children who are physically, sexually or emotionally abused, and those at risk of developing health or developmental problems.

Canadians know that our children are our future. We are a kind and generous people. Together we must strive to improve the lives of our young people in every way we can because all our children matter.

Announcement:

The Hon. Kim Campbell, P.C., M.P., Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada, will be speaking in Banff on May 31, 1992. For further information please call 1-800-372-9587.

RCMP report

A Firearm Acquisition Certificate, commonly called a FAC, can be applied for at the RCMP Detachment. However, if not all the criteria are met, the firearm's officer can refuse a FAC application. Should a refusal occur there are certain provisions under the Criminal Code of Canada which must be met.

Firstly, the firearms officer must notify the applicant in writing of his reasons for the refusal.

Secondly, the firearms officer must advise the applicant that he has 30 days from the day notice is received to have this opinion referred to a Provincial Court Judge.

Thirdly, the notice must be accompanied with information on how to appeal the decision. Every FAC application is looked at closely and if one is refused it is for a good reason.

Between April 29, 1992 and May 12, 1992, Didsbury RCMP responded to a total of 188 complaints, 28 of which were criminal code related offences. Eleven motor vehicle accidents also occurred during this time period. Thirty-five traffic tickets were issued as well as 16 written warnings. One person was charged with impaired driving and one individual was given a roadside suspension.

West Didsbury 4H news

By Greg Roberts

On May 11, 1992, the West Didsbury 4H Beef Club held their 8th meeting of this 4H season at Melvin Hall. Brett Israelson called the meeting to order.

Laura-Lee Whitlow read the secretary's report and Trisha Hogg presented the treasurer's report.

Sara Authurs reviewed the district 4H judging day, which was held on April 20, 1992 at the Olds Cow Palace.

Bobbi Hosegood spoke about her experience when she went to selections at the Olds College.

The club leader, Bert Pringle, gave the members information on some summer camps that are available for 4Hers.

The new business, the club members discussed the district 4H heifer show, which will be held on May 17th at the Olds Cow Palace at 10:00 a.m. Please feel free to come and join us 4Hers.

The steer show is also coming up on June 10th, 1992 in Carstairs. Ernie Israelson explained to us how we could use electrolytes to cut down on dark-cutters. Thank you very much for the information.

To conclude the meeting, Bert Pringle presented a video for the members to watch about fitting our heifer and steer projects. We really learned alot.

Out next meeting will be held on June 1st, 1992 at Melvin Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Spring farm income outlook projections released

Realized net farm income for 1992 is expected to reach $4.54 billion nationally, up 40 per cent from last year and the second highest income since 1980.

The announcement was made last week by Agriculture Canada economists in releasing their spring agriculture outlook for 1992. The revised farm income projections were prepared in consultation with provincial ministries of agriculture and Statistics Canada.

Economists attribute the increase to higher program payments offsetting lower market receipts and higher operating expenses. Forecast higher payments under the safety net programs (GRIP and NISA), the farm income support programs (FSAM I and II) and the National Tripartite Stabilization programs.

Total farm receipts are forecast to increase by eight per cent from the 1991 level to $23 billion as higher program payments largely offset lower livestock receipts with stable crop receipts. Total farm operating expenses, before rebates, are forecast to increase by two per cent to $16.3 billion in 1992. This marginal increase in operating expenses is the result of higher expenditures for stabilization premiums, feed, building and machinery repairs, wages, rent, property taxes and pesticides.

Provincially, realized net income for 1992 is forecast to increase in all provinces except Prince Edward Island where a slight decrease (8.8%) is expected. Following two consecutive years of lower income, an increase of 74 per cent is expected in the Western provinces as a whole, due mainly to higher program payments. In particular, realized net income in Saskatchewan is forecast at $828 million, up from $424 million in 1991.

New injection process demonstrated

Spring around the Olds College Farm may never be same again since the introduction and demonstration of a new liquid waste injection system to spread manure.

Through the College's arrangement with Lambourne Environmental, of Eckville, the advantages of waste injection over above-ground application methods have been tested and proven.

Larry Arvay, College Waste Management Technician, describes the process as both beneficial to the farmer and environmentally sound. "Because the liquid waste is injected four inches beneath the surface of the soil, you can control nuisance odors and potential water contamination due to run-off while enhancing the absorption of valuable nutrients," Arvay explains.

Lambourne Environmental Representative, Russ Ayers-Berry sees the Olds College Farm as an ideal candidate for the liquid sludge injection service his company provides. "The College Farm produces about two million gallons of liquid manure from its hog and dairy operations each year. All of this is already being land-applied to about 250 acres annually, which we feel can be further benefitted through this new system," says Ayers-Berry.

Under suitable conditions, a four-wheel-drive tractor with drag hose and tool bar set up can provide up to 8,000 gallons of liquid waste per acre injected four inches into the top soil. "We found in using this system on most soil types, seeding can commence in as little as 24-36 hours following the injections," Ayers-Berry comments.

While this innovative waste injection method is now being considered for future use at Olds College, many other waste management initiatives are already actively being pursued.

For example, about 3,000 tones of solid manure is being composted on campus every year in a joint venture with Greenleaf Products Incorporated. In addition, a 385,900 litre anaerobic digester is in use to process liquid dairy and hog manure, increasing nutrients available to the soil to breakdown solids, provide some odor control, and produce bio-gas. Yard wastes generated from both the Town of Olds and the College campus are being composted in efforts to conserve valuable landfill space and produce organic-rich compost.

"We are also looking at the feasibility of developing a Composting Centre that would provide valuable data for municipalities, communities, and industries to draw upon as a resource base to further their own waste management initiatives," Arvay adds.

Greenhouse grows in season

Some people don't mind getting a little dirt under their nails now and again.

For the Leonard family, greenhouse, it's become a way of life.

For 11 years now, Carl Leonard and wife Karen have been successfully operating High Country Greenhouses two miles north on 57th Ave. in Olds.

Business, according to Carl, has kept up over the years thanks to both high volume inventory and a firm grasp on the marketplace immediately surrounding Olds. Business has been so good in fact, that High Country Greenhouses are building an expansion onto their present operation to make room for more retail sales. "We just added a 40 x 100 ft. section onto our main greenhouse," Carl explains, "...that'll give us 14,000 sq. ft. in total."

A full variety of flowers, trees, shrubs, herbs, and evergreens are grown and cared for right on the premises—a horticulture and floriculture menu Carl is cautious to keep lean so as not to over stock the business with plants that are more difficult to sell. In the past few years, however, hanging floral basket arrangements have been particularly popular. "...Geraniums, especially," says Carl. "We always seem to run out of them early for some reason. We are actually just starting the busy season now though; it'll be hectic the next couple weeks while people start to work around outside again."

Regardless, no one at High Country seems to talk about the extra work that comes with a busier shop.

"We need it because it's such a short season. We have five of us working in the greenhouse now and that's lots to keep us going," says Carl.

In the off-season, the Leonard family keeps the greenhouse going by concentrating on their wholesale customers.

"You have to keep versatile," says Carl. "At times you just have to work harder to get your returns, but it's a good business... it's really no different than farming."

Women's seminar upcoming

Women's roles in municipal government will be the topic of an upcoming seminar offered by the local group Women in Politics. The day-long seminar will feature a number of guest speakers including Patricia Pardo-De-mianschuk, Executive Director for the Independent Living Resource Centre.

SUNDRE/WESTWARD HO NEWS

Environmental action group formed

By Janice Harrington

A new environmental awareness group has been formed as a result of a meeting in Sundre earlier this month.

Albertans for a Clean Environment (A.C.E.) was formed by a group of concerned landowners from around the province as a result of a meeting with famed environmentalist Andy Russell.

A.C.E. interim president Doug Jones, who owns Stone Hammer Ranch near Sundre, said the idea to form an action group grew from a circle of friends, cattle producers and professionals, who had all experienced some sort of environmental problem.

"We kicked it off with the seminar we had with Andy Russell a couple of weeks back in Sundre," Jones said. "We wanted to see if there was enough interest. And from that we had a meeting in Rocky [Mountain House] last week and formed a charitable organization."

Jones said A.C.E. will work in concert with a sister group formed at the same time. The Andy Russell Foundation will take care of research and education programs on the environment while A.C.E. will act as the action group.

"I guess our goals with the creation of these was to focus attention on the problems before it is too late," he said. "Some people think it's already too late."

While more organization is needed to put the group together, Jones said one of their mandates is to fight for clean air and safe water—serious issue for those in the cattle industry as Jones is himself.

"This is a billion dollar industry and a renewable resource, although some people might disagree with me," he said. "We are going to start in Alberta where we are fighting contamination problems right now and if interest is expressed from other areas and if we can help them, then that will be our direction."

"There are laws that currently exist to help protect our environment," Jones said. "But the problem is in the interpretation, it's not always correct. We want to work as a group to make sure they are. It just takes a number of concerned people to make this work. Individuals just can't spend the time or the energy that's necessary."

Jones said A.C.E. is still working on fundraising and policy development and plans to take a harder look at how to begin their work once the creation process is over.

Interested environmentalists who would like further information about the Andy Russell Foundation or A.C.E. can call Jones at 335-8979.

Theft assistance requested

Sundre RCMP are requesting assistance from anyone who has any information of the following theft.

Between January 22, 1992 and March 10th, 1992 at the Shell Caroline Gas Plant situated 18 km. N.W. of Sundre, 764 Meters of 500 MCM TRAY CABLE (Copper Wire) was removed from 3 reels that were contained in the Cold Storage yard of Dilcon Constructors.

The wire in its original state is 2 1/4 inches in diameter and has a black rubber covering which has the markings of: "Phillips R.W. 90 TC OIC RES FT4 XLPE (-40C) 3C 500 MCM 1000V CSA" (Copper Wire).

Total value of the wire is valued at $41,216 and weighs approximately 26,000 lbs.

This wire may have been stripped of its outer coverings to be sold as scrap copper.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Cremona Gold and Silver news

A large crowd turned out for the May potluck supper and enjoyed a pleasant evening visiting with friends.

President Ted Seeley chaired the meeting that followed. The discussion continued on the pros and cons of having a Gold and Silver Club pin. A decision will be made in the fall, so keep those original designs pouring in.

The "Hot Springs Swing" bus tour leaves the centre at 8:00 a.m., June 9th for a 4-day trip to Fort Steele and the Kootenays with a wind-up supper at Three Valley Gap.

There will be a free bus trip to the Devon Botanical Gardens on Aug. 13 and another one day tour to Rimbey and the historical park on August 27th.

Kay Unger has kindly volunteered to oversee the front flower beds again this year. They add so much to the appearance of the building and are much appreciated.

Congratulations to the winners of the raffle—Al McMullen of Edmonton who won the sweater and Bob Romney of Cremona who won the lawn chair. Thanks so much to the donors and the ticket sellers, and all the buyers. These projects help to raise much needed cash.

The Cremona Congregational Church people have asked to be allowed to hold church services in the Gold and Silver Centre while they build their new church. Tentative approval was given and the financial arrangements will be worked out later.

The June meeting will be the last one until fall, so bring along a main dish and salad or dessert and a friend or two as well. The supper starts at 6:30 p.m. and the date is Thursday, June 4th.

Face lift

The Red Dwarf Fudge store got a new look recently. Owners of the store plan to finish the dwarf look to their building over the next few days by adding teeth.

New look for Carstairs store

By Janice Harrington

Carstairs' famous fudge store is sporting a new look these days—dwarf.

Red Dwarf Fudge, which has been running in Carstairs since 1980, has bucked tradition and painted the front of the retail store in their corporate image.

Owner Will Pacarynuk said the idea was created when it came time to paint the building they have occupied for a number of years.

"We had to paint the building, it was getting a little old," Pacarynuk said. "And when you looked at it from across the street it already looked like a face, so we decided to paint it like a dwarf's face."

Pacarynuk said the cost of the customized "face lift" was about the same as a regular paint job. He said it also helps to make his adopted town more visible.

"Carstairs did need some livening up," he said. "And we have had some really good compliments about it."

The paint job, which has the roof of the building painted red like a hat, eyebrows over the two second story windows and a mouth around the street level showcase window, will be finished over the next few days when white teeth are added.

The store, which is open Friday through Sunday from noon to 5 p.m., sells 12 different types of fudge, almond bark, peanut clusters and other sorts of homemade candy. Pacarynuk said they are also selling a number of different flavors of ice cream.

Red Dwarf also has outlets in Calgary and Edmonton and is usually seen at all Alberta, and some national, fairs.

Charley's Aunt travels to Airdrie

The Principle Theatre Players cast and crew of "Charley's Aunt" finished their 4 performances of this classic play in Olds. This three act farce was a resounding success bringing the audience many laughs. Although comedy timing and proper English accents are not easy to achieve, the ensemble of actors made it appear easy. They had so much fun on stage!

To accomplish this takes many months of practice and dedication from actors and production members alike. Every member is vital to the play and this group of talented actors met the task creditably.

The director of "Charley's Aunt" is Marlene Skeet. Members of the cast include Mike Matovich, Tony Sylvestre, Don Matchullis, Al Skeet, Don Chittick, Daniel Jefferies, Fran Leonard, Tracie Skeet, Lark Bigelow, Lori Kemmere and Bonnie Herbert. Special kudos to Clare Nathan-Simons for her authentic period furniture and props. Sets were designed by Kim Dunn and constructed by Jim Martin and Al Skeet.

Costumes were designed by "The Costume Closet." Assistants in many areas were Helen Huber, June Chittick and Linda Martin. Greg Schneider, Kevin Kinear and Joe Martin were stage hands. "Cindy's Cut 'n' Curl" once again did hairdos.

Principle Theatre Players hasn't said goodbye to "Charley's Aunt" as yet. They will be doing two more performances at Bert Church Theatre in Airdrie on May 29th and 30th. If you haven't seen this classic it's well worth the drive to Airdrie to see it in a theatre. Tickets may be purchased by phoning Bert Church Theatre or members of the cast.

Summer art workshops announced

"Art flourishes where there is a sense of adventure" —(Alfred North Whitehead). For the second year, artists will gather at the St. Ann Ranch and the T.L. Bar Ranch in the Trochu area to create art, meet other artists, and to be stimulated by new scenery and new ideas. These outdoor painting workshops are a soul-satisfying holiday for many people. The instructor and artist, Ellen Dick, says that anyone can learn to paint and enjoy the sense of accomplishment that painting brings, regardless of ability or experience.

The art workshops provide lessons for beginners (beginner painting kits are available) and further instruction and direction for those with painting experience. With the Red Deer River Valley, prairies, old buildings and great scenery to inspire the artist within, the workshops are a stimulating and memorable experience. The artists make new friends and charge their creative batteries.

The first outdoor painting workshop of the season will be held at the T.L. Bar Ranch on the weekend of May 30th and 31st. Usually the participants arrive the night before the workshop begins, get settled in and explore the location, walking along the river and enjoying the river valley and the pastures, buildings and horses.

The workshop day begins with a large breakfast in the ranch kitchen. After a talk and demonstration by Ellen, the artists find subject matter that inspires them and they paint until lunch time. Meals are the time to relax, enjoy the delicious food and get to know some of the other people in the group. During the afternoon, there are "mini" demonstrations and lots of individual assistance. Before dinner, the artists usually gather for a casual discussion of the day's work and for happy hour. Evenings are free time. Many of the artists take this time to talk about art with the other enthusiasts, a luxury many do not enjoy in their daily environment. There are also local attractions to visit, as well as horse-back riding at the T.L. Bar Ranch.

The first workshop at the St. Ann Ranch will be held on the weekend of June 13th and 14th. Staying at the St. Ann is like taking a trip back in history. The artists stay in the 3 storey ranch house which has been restored to its 1921 elegance. It has an old world charm which appeals especially to the artist. Delicious food beautifully served, brass beds, reading rooms and porches provide an environment for the artist which restores the spirit and enhances creativity.

The instructor is Ellen Dick, a professional artist who has had a one-person show of her work in Edmonton, Calgary and Toronto. She has painted all her life and holds a bachelor's degree in art from the University of Toronto. Ellen's emphasis in these workshops is on individual development, always encouraging uniqueness in each artist. Experienced artist and beginner alike return home from the art workshops with renewed energy and enthusiasm for their creative endeavors.

For more details about the workshops, phone Ellen at 546-2588. You may also meet Ellen at the Torrington Arts and Crafts Fair on Sunday, June 7th.

Slopitch tourney set

The Didsbury Cleavers mixed slopitch team have scheduled their 4th Annual Mixed Slopitch Tournament to run this weekend, May 29, 30 and 31. Games will begin at 6:30 Friday night and will be played all day Saturday and Sunday.

A minimum of 16 teams will be vying to place in the money spots of the A, B, or C divisions. These teams will be from Onoway, Calgary, Torrington and Didsbury. We expect some great fun and competition!

A minimum of 37 games will be played, a cabaret for ball players and invited guests will provide the Saturday night entertainment and Sunday will have the A, B, and C division finals in the later afternoon.

This being the fourth tournament the Cleavers have successfully hosted, they're looking forward to an even better one this year. The entertainment it offers, the extra business in town, and the promotion of our town's sports and facilities is an added bonus of being the hosts.

Come on up and watch a few games this weekend. We look forward to seeing town support.

Slopitch season underway

The Didsbury Mixed Slopitch League is off to a great start this year with a registration of 10 teams, up from eight last season.

The league started Sunday, May 3 and has been in action since then. League games are played every Tuesday and Thursday evening, as well as every third Friday (evenings) and Sunday (days).

All of the games played this season will add up to over 100. The final games and league windup is July 25, making the season just long enough to keep everyone happy.

The league is now seven years strong and has seen a steadily increasing number of players participating and an impressive show of talent. We're all very proud of the sportsmanship and camaraderie displayed in the league, too.

The league, this year, welcomes new teams, the Fog Suckers, Golf Club Divots, Sunset Swingers, and Raiders. We also welcome back the Slammers, Sharpshooters, Hooters, 69ers, Untouchables, and the Cleavers.

With all these teams involved, we see a great season in store.

Jets lose two

The Didsbury Jets dropped a pair of ball games last week.

On Tuesday night they fell behind 8-1 to the Olds Bears only to battle back to make the score 8-6 in the 6th inning but the Jets couldn't muster up enough to tie the ball game, as they stranded two runners in the 7th and lost 9-7. Tyler Marshall took the loss but the Jets defence did not help him, as they committed 6 errors in the game. Cory Green played a strong game for the Jets and hit his first home run of the season.

On Thursday, the Jets lost to the Westcott Goldenboys 7-2. The Jets played a good game against the powerful Westcott ball club and showed plenty of positive signs, especially defensively.

The Jets next two games are Tuesday at Westerdale and Thursday at home against the Sundre Outlaws.

Fastball league standings as of May 24, 1992

SINGLE POINT OF ENTRY

The senior component of Alberta's population is steadily increasing. Although healthier life styles will minimize some stress on institutional requirements, long-term care placement will still remain a necessity for some individuals. The combination of anticipated need for these services, with the financial restraints experienced by the health care facilities, has caused re-examination of resource management. In order to facilitate services to individuals with health care needs, a system has been created by which the individual, a family member, friend, physician or health care worker can access.

For some individuals, their needs may be met through increased services delivered at home by present programs of Home Care, F.C.S.S. and/or other service organizations. However, to meet the needs of those whose care needs are greater, the waitlist for the facilities in the County of Mountain View is now managed on a regional basis. This allows clients to access the system on basis of need. This access is based on the following principles:

1. The Single Point of Entry is based upon the principle that individuals wish to remain independent and care for themselves within the family and community-based environment for as long as they are able to do so. Community based services are considered to be the first level of care.

2. The Single Point of Entry recognizes the importance of the family role in the delivery of services to the client. Throughout the assessment and placement process and the development of care plans, family members should be involved. Placement options aim to strengthen and enhance family support.

3. The major focus of the Single Point of Entry is to serve the needs of the client and ensure that they are appropriately met. Rights of individuals and client choices will be respected.

4. The Single Point of Entry strives to ensure that services are provided to the client in a streamlined and simplified manner. To avoid the inconvenience of dealing with a variety of assessors, assessment and placement services will be delivered by one worker. Case management should be an integral part of this process, to ensure that the client is not shuttled among care providers.

5. The Single Point of Entry acts as a gatekeeper for the long-term care system, with respect to the coordination and delivery of long-term care services.

Single Point of Entry ensures Long-Term Care is provided to clients with greatest need, not necessarily to those who have waited the longest.

The waitlist needs/priorities follow the recommendations of Alberta Health which are in descending order:

1. Urgent Placement from Community - Situation in which a crisis is encountered by or is imminent for an applicant living in the community due to a breakdown in the informal care system, or change in client status.

2. Re-admittance to Original/Alternate Long-Term Care Facility from Acute Care Facility - Situation in which applicants no longer require acute care and were former clients of the long-term care facility, or require a higher level of care than the originating facility can provide, necessitating placement in a different facility.

3. Other Placement from Acute Care - Situation in which applicants are residing in an acute care hospital and have been assessed as requiring facility long-term care. Such applicants are placed in this category in the order that referrals are received.

4. At Risk Placement from the Community - Situation in which applicants are residing in the community and have been assessed by the Home Care Program as "at risk" for facility long-term care, but are not in a crisis or vulnerable situation.

Interagency transfers are considered special circumstances and are addressed as they are requested. With the rural Long-Term Care situation, many residents of the County of Mountain View accept placement in an alternate choice to meet their health care needs. As appropriate beds become available in the facility of first choice, efforts are made to accommodate these requests.

Any questions or concerns can be addressed to Karen Berreth, Single Point of Entry Facilities Coordinator in Sundre at 638-3999 or by writing to Box 101, Sundre, T0M 1X0.

Koinonia mission to Mexico

Koinonia Christian Schools recently arrived home from a missions trip to Mexico where they were involved in teaching and sharing the Christian faith with Mexican children, teenagers and adults. Twenty-seven high school students, 7 teachers, 4 parents and 1 grandparent from 5 Koinonia schools in Alberta participated in the mission along with 6 Spanish interpreters who helped the group communicate with the Mexican people. Those from this area included: Garry and Esther Anderson, Paul Casurella, Dwayne Brown, Joanne Effa, Ed Houston, Neila Lehman, Jason Stang, Corey Kope, Helen Haukenfrers, Jason Shantz, Marsha Metcalfe, Tara Stauffer, Tanya Watters, Shauntelle Nelson, Elsbeth Houden, Jennifer Christensen, Bryan Houston, Toby Penner, Julie Punter, Anita Reimer, Jennifer Lehman, Cherry Watters, Devin Hartzler, Jeff Neufeld and Ludvig Luellau.

Leaving the Olds Koinonia Christian School on April 10, the group travelled for three days by bus to Mexicali where they joined a group of over 600 like-minded young people from all over Canada and the U.S.A. led by YUGO (Youth Unlimited Gospel Outreach). The mission, which lasted from April 12-18, involved building relationships with the nationals and teaching and preaching in Mexican villages. The participants will always value the unforgettable experiences of seeing the poverty of the Mexican people, their openness and friendliness, the new friends made and the evident answers to prayer during the 12 days away from home.

According to mission coordinator, Garry Anderson (Olds Koinonia principal), "There is nothing I can think of that we could do for our young people which would better help to fulfill our objectives for them than this missions trip. They went with the expectation of giving up their holidays, doing lots of hard work and being a servant to others. The fun would be a by-product. It happened just that way."

Koinonia Schools anticipate similar mission trips in future years.

Way of life

Norman Bergen, Pastor
Bergthal Mennonite Church

"Change and decay in all around I see," says the writer of the well-known hymn.

This poetic expression characterizes much of the thinking of many people. They are overwhelmed by the changes they see taking place everywhere. And they are deeply convinced that most changes indicate a process of decay.

Rapid and drastic change is largely a phenomenon of recent times. A century ago change wasn't so noticeable because people lived in comparative isolation and communication was slow. Life styles remained reasonably constant from one generation to another. Suddenly, toward the end of the 19th century and then full force in the 20th, change burst upon the world like an avalanche. Automobiles and airplanes put everybody on wheels or wings and shrank the world to a fraction of its former size. The newspaper, telephone, radio and T.V. wiped out isolation and opened homes to every influence imaginable. It has now become nearly impossible to avoid change.

Not all change is good, of course. It brings much evil with it. But to try to remain always at a fixed position, either in church, social or economic life, is neither wise nor in accordance with God's plan.

Change may mean decay, but it can also mean growth. There is little virtue in remaining static, in trying to live just like our forebearers. Change is inherent in every phase of life. The hymn writer who penned the hymn quoted above also acknowledged the One "who changest not." Here is the crux of the matter. The important thing is that we keep the Unchanging One at the centre of all change. His fixed and absolute principles then become operative in all the transitions that take place in and around us, leading us forward to the culmination of God's all-wise purpose in our lives.

So change can be welcomed rather than feared. The centrality of Christ and our faithfulness to Him will give discernment in shaping new realities to serve God and humanity.

In the ultimate spiritual sense, change ought to be seen as divine fulfillment. For in a world of death and pain, we can look forward with the writer of Revelation to that final glorious change when "the former things are passed away" and the Lord will "make all things new" (21:4b, 5a).

"Change and decay in all around I see. O Thou who changest not, abide with me."

Bancroft W.I. news

By E. Page

The May 14th meeting was held at the home of June Lore with 10 members in attendance.

The meeting opened by singing "Happy Days Are Here Again," repeating our pledge, and the flag salute.

The roll call was a Mother's Day to Remember; these ranged from green pancakes, a new bike and cards made by little people, to a special christening.

For A.C.W.W. we collected 28 cents for Mother's Day and Victoria Day.

We will make up a list for the park clean-up for the summer months.

Hospital visit this month will be done by Lila Kurtz and Pat VanTetering.

We will write a letter and have all our members sign it protesting the idea of changing the name of our magazine, Home and Country. This is our motto and it was felt it should remain the same.

Our quilting day will be June 3rd at 10 a.m. at Marge Fisher's.

The Convention will be June 9-11 in Olds. Our delegate will be Catherine McNaughtan, with Elsie Brander as alternate. Items of handicraft were collected to be sent to the competition there and two members will help with the judging day.

Our husband's supper has been scheduled for Sunday, June 14th at 4 p.m.

We reviewed the resolutions and voted on most of them to give our delegate direction.

Lila had the bit of fun won by Eva.

Our next meeting will be held on June 15th, one week later than usual in order that we might hear the report on convention before summer holidays.

Marge Fisher had the lucky cup.

The May meeting was at the home of Gwen Pratt, one of our few country members, on Monday, May 18.

Roll call was answered with "how many times have you moved since you were married?" Some had moved many times other once or twice.

Our members remembered David & Gwen Pratt on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The resolutions were discussed which will be coming up at Provincial Conference in Olds.

Our next meeting will be a dinner outing first and then we will go to Phyllis Leeder's home in the Manor.

Also, our birthday money will be collected to give to our local halls.

This is to replace buying secret pals gifts for each other. The tea draw was won by Phyllis Leeder and the bit of fun by Elsie Phillips.

The contest was how many three letter words can you make in three months. Elsie had 67.

born at Red Deer Hospital, April 27, weighing 7 lbs. 10 ozs. A sister and friend for Sheldon. Will & Marion Ironside of Didsbury are very happy grandparents.

Site ready for 1992 Alberta Seniors Games

By Alister Thomas

In less than three months the 1992 Alberta Seniors Games in Medicine Hat, August 19-22, will be underway. About 1,000 participants, who are at least 55 years of age, will take part in 22 events. These include badminton, bowling (5-pin, carpet and lawn), bridge (contract and duplicate), creative writing, cribbage, cycling, dance (ballroom and old time), darts, floor curling, golf, horseshoes, performing arts, scrabble, shuffleboard, slowpitch, snooker, swimming, tennis, as well as track and field. In addition, the cultural component includes visual arts and crafts.

The Chairman of the 1992 Alberta Seniors Games is Frank Rogers, who heads up his own real estate company in Medicine Hat. He says the facilities are ready and that billets and volunteers are signing up daily. "I'm really pleased with the level of preparation," Rogers explains. "We look forward to hosting this outstanding event."

The objectives of these Games are to provide all seniors, regardless of age or ability the opportunity: (1) To pursue greater levels of physical, social, intellectual and creative achievement through friendly competition and participation; and (2) To enhance a sense of community spirit by bringing Albertans together.

Participants in the 1992 Alberta Seniors Games will be chosen from regional and zone playoffs, most of which will be organized by the Alberta Senior Citizens Sport and Recreation Association (ASCRA). As a lead-up to these Games, there will be a torch relay (beginning August 8) sponsored by Northwestern Utilities and Canadian Western Natural Gas Co. Ltd. The relay will begin in Hinton, site of the last Games in 1990, and make its way to Medicine Hat in time to officially open the 1992 Games.

Alberta has been conducting Seniors Games, the first of their kind in Canada, every second year since 1980.

For more information about 1992 Alberta Seniors Games, please contact Dave Turnbull in the Olds office at 556-4302.

Testing the limits

Didsbury student Yvonne Dick travelled around town in a wheelchair to discover what life is like for the handicapped. Dick, who is writing a book about a wheelchair-bound girl, is a student at the Didsbury High School.
